Please take a second to read the terms below - this is in addition to my standard User Agreement/Privacy Policy.

Terms & Conditions - Jody Warner retains the copyright to all images and grants unlimited usage to the individual or individuals in the band for use in web or print applications. Record labels and management company usage can be negotiated at any time.

What this means is you and your band can use these images. If you are later signed to a label, the label will need to contact me for usage terms if they want to use the images you have. Labels and management companies can take advantage of these same rates during the introductory offer of my services.

Any editorial (publication) requests for your images must be placed through me. I can meet any deadline for editorial requests you have for magazines, papers, or web sites. The reason they have to come through me is so I can work the images up to their specs, I can make sure they give me proper credit, and I can continue to build relationships with publishers. Simply call me with the contact information of the person I need to send the image to and it's done.

All images will be shot digitally and delivered digitally. If film or extensive retouching is requested, I will quote you the added expense.

Payment for services is required in full the day of the shoot. Payment options are non-negotiable. Cash, check, bank check, Visa, MasterCard, American Express, Discover and PayPal payments are all excepted - images are delivered when the check clears my bank. Payments via Visa, MasterCard, American Express, Discover and PayPal may include a price increase that accounts for the various fees associated with doing electronic business.
